DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 4 and 5 are again rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 6 of U.S. Patent No. 6,632,223. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because to analogous apparatus and methods of use for treating atrial fibrillation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -
(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 4-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Patterson et al. U.S. Patent No. 6,165,209.

As to claims 4 and 5, Patterson et al. disclose apparatus and methods of use for treating reducing restenosis, the apparatus comprising an elongated catheter device effective to deliver a stent to a position in a vessel; and a stent removably disposed in the distal tip of the catheter device, the stent being self-expanding (col. 16, lines 41-46) and configured to be implanted within a blood vessel. They further teach that the application of energy to a stent to effectively ablate tissue is known in the art (see col. 3, lines 13-23; col. 4, lines 38-50; and col. 8, lines 37-52).

As to claims 6 and 7, although not described by Patterson et al., the links between their delivery catheter and the ablative stent are inherently fusible at certain temperatures.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

U.S. Patent No. 5,419,760 to Narciso, Jr. discloses an ablative stent for the treatment/prevention of blood vessel restenosis.
